POLICE EXPECTED TO TAKE INSULTS, BOARD DECLARES

Civil Service Commission Reprimands Patrolman for Cutting Soldier While Angry

After hearing a dozen witnesses who saw the disturbance at Hotel and Nuuanu streets Christmas night during which Mounted Patrolman John B. Kramer cut Pvt. W. E. Amundsen, Company A, 2nd Infantry, in the face with a blacksnake whip the civil service commission reprimanded Kramer and told him that he must be careful not to inflict any such injury in the future without great necessity.

Chairman Lorin Andrews in announcing the finding said:

"The commission realizes that you were placed in a difficult position and on that account has decided to give you the benefit of the doubt. If it be true, as you have testified, that you struck into the crowd with your whip to protect yourself from interference, and as a last resort, your action was justified. If, however, you lost your temper because a man in the crowd struck your horse, and lashed out indiscriminately, you are deserving of punishment. In the discharge of your duty you must ever bear in mind that you are expected to submit to more of insult and abuse, as a police officer, than would be the case were you an ordinary citizen. You are the possessor of a good record, and partly on that account we have decided to give you the benefit of the doubt which exists as to what motive prompted you to use your whip as you did. You will not be punished more severely than by a reprimand. Should you offend in this manner again, however, you will be severely punished."

Rose Took Kramer's Case.

For Amundsen Capt. Edward K. Massee, acting judge advocate, appeared and Kramer's side of the case was presented by Sheriff Charles H. Rose.

Witnesses for the prosecution agreed unanimously that the crowd into which Kramer rode his horse was all on the sidewalk and that Kramer cut out with his blacksnake four times. The prosecution's witnesses were Pts. Calloway, J. Harrington and Edward Caperton, all of the 2nd Infantry.

Amundsen said he was standing on the outskirts of the crowd about 10 o'clock Christmas night, having gone to Hotel and Nuuanu streets out of

SMART ESTATE TO PAY HUGE SUM IN ATTORNEYS' FEES

Expense of Contest of Will of Late Hawaiian Heiress Totals $105,573.99

The famous legal suit to contest the will of the late Thelma T. K. Parker Smart was recalled in Circuit Judge Whitney's court last Saturday afternoon, when the court ordered that Richard H. Trent, guardian of the property of Richard Smart, a minor, pay attorneys' fees, expenses and advances, which grew out of the contest, in the sum of $84,073.99.

The resurrection of the case—or rather its closing chapter, probably—came suddenly in Judge Whitney's court. Judge Whitney did not have it on his calendar but on receipt of a telephone call from one of the attorneys while he was at lunch, he consented to hear the matter, called his curiosity after seeing a man arrested and a big crowd gather, and that Kramer rode up and cut him with the whip without provocation.

Kramer on his own behalf said he was surrounded by a hostile crowd of 30 or 40 in which were half a dozen soldiers, and discharged soldiers, in Same Men at Cutting.

These men were the same who later attacked and stabbed Henry Carter on Fort street, Kramer said, as he saw them in the crowd and arrested them after the stabbing. He said he used his whip, which was given him to control mobs with, because they were threatening him.

"One man struck my horse in the nose and I was slashing at him," Kramer said.

Chairman Andrews told Kramer that whether he was hitting at the crowd to disperse it, or hitting at a man in anger because the man had hit his horse was a vital point. Kramer answered that he was hitting at the man because he was a ringleader and he wanted to drive him out of the crowd. He said he did not know he had struck Amundsen until the latter told him about it later.

Other witnesses who agreed with Kramer in the view of the occurrence were Mike John Ginn, engineer on a harbor boat, Pvt. Ernest Hoinagle, 2nd Infantry, Pvt. Bert Lewis, 2nd Infantry, and Pvt. Francis M. Haislett, 2nd Infantry. Policemen Barbeza and Napale were other witnesses.

clerks and opened courts. Shortly after the death of Mrs. Smart in San Francisco, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, her mother, instituted the contest, which was finally settled through compromise and Mrs. Knight has since been appointed guardian of the person of Richard Smart. When the matter of settling the attorneys' fees and other expenses attending the suit was brought up Saturday, Mr. Trent, when called to the witness stand, said he knew of no reason why the items should be rejected. He added that, since the compromise in the fight for the estate saved further and possibly greater expense, he believed the items should be paid.

How Money is Divided.

Judge Whitney ordered that payments be made as follows: Antonio Perry, $2500; David L. Withington, $1000; William A. Kinney, $13,500; Frear, Prosser, Anderson & Marx, $15,000; same law firm, for advances and expenses, $12,073.99; Clarence H. Olson, $10,000; Thompson, Milverton & Cathcart, $30,000. Total, $84,073.99.

Aside from these amounts, $20,000 was paid by the late Henry Gaillard Smart to the law firm of Thompson, Milverton & Cathcart, and Mrs. Knight had advanced $1500 to Attorney W. A. Kinney, who came here from Canada to represent her in the contest. With these payments, the total expense of the litigation is brought up to $105,573.99.

Mr. Trent's petition to the court as guardian of the property of the Smart baby asked that official cognizance be taken of the fact that there were a number of accounts outstanding against the estate, consisting mainly of attorneys' fees and expenses, and prayed that they receive early judicial attention.

It was ordered by the court that the guardian pay 7 per cent interest yearly on all amounts which may be paid readily, and that 6 per cent yearly be paid on those accounts which may be deferred, as it doubtless will be some time before there is a sufficient income at hand to settle these amounts.

The suit to contest Thelma Parker Smart's will was one of the biggest legal fights in the history of the local circuit court. It involved the big Parker ranch on Hawaii, the largest in the islands, which is valued at from two to three million dollars, the annual income being about $250,000.

MILLER THINKS IT'S HIS DUTY TO TEACH SOLDIER PATRIOTISM

When the national air was sung and a flag displayed in the Bijou theater Saturday night, and Sgt. W. D. Walters of Schofield Barracks did not display the enthusiasm which George Miller thinks appropriate at such times, Miller hit Walters in the eye and made a cut that had to be stitched at the Emergency hospital. Miller was arrested.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When Cross, Feverish and Sick Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

You read and look afar with equal facility, but no one observes that you are wearing bifocals because the usual "lines" are absent. Wear the genuine KRYPTOKS awhile and you will never willingly return to old-style bifocal glasses.
